Military Analyst
John D. Hollier

📞 910-384-9461
✉ john-d-hollier@email.com
📍 Washington, DC

Professional summary

Dedicated and results-driven Military Analyst with almost years of experience providing strategic analysis and support to government agencies. Demonstrated leadership and management abilities gained through military service, including deployments in support of combat operations. Seeking to leverage experience and skills in a challenging and dynamic environment to contribute to national security objectives.

Education

BS in Data Analytics
2015 - 2019
Fayetteville State University
Fayetteville, NC

Experience

Military Analyst

July 2020 - Now

Defense Intelligence Agency / Washington, DC

- Perform thorough analysis of sensitive intelligence data, encompassing assessments of potential threats, operational activities, and global geopolitical developments.
- Generate precise and timely intelligence reports to aid senior decision-makers within the defense community.
- Engage in cooperative efforts with various agencies and international partners to exchange information and align strategies to advance shared security goals.

Military Intelligence Officer

June 2015 - May 2020

United States Army / Fayetteville, NC

- Developed and carried out intelligence operations to assist in combat missions and tactical maneuvers.
- Gathered, evaluated, and distributed intelligence reports to enhance situational awareness and inform decision-making for tactical leaders.
- Performed assessments of potential threats and conducted risk analyses to identify weaknesses and formulate strategies for risk reduction.

Skills

Skill	Rating
Strategic Planning	◆◆◆◆◆
Research and Analysis	◆◆◆◆◆
Logistical Planning	◆◆◆◆◆
Leadership	◆◆◆◆◆
Intelligence Analysis	◆◆◆◆◆
Security Clearance	◆◆◆◆◆

Languages

◆ German (fluent)

Military Service

Active Duty

May 2005 - August 2015
Various Locations

- Achieved the rank of Captain in the United States Army, demonstrating leadership and management skills in various operational environments.
- Received commendations and awards for meritorious service and exceptional performance in challenging and high-stress situations.