Jean McNichols

Clinical Research Coordinator

In my current role, I have successfully managed multiple research projects from start to finish. This includes coordinating with various departments, recruiting and screening participants, and ensuring compliance with regulatory guidelines. My attention to detail and organizational skills have allowed me to maintain accurate and up-to-date documentation throughout the process.

One of my proudest achievements was leading a team in the successful completion of a phase III clinical trial for a new cancer treatment. This project required me to work closely with physicians, pharmaceutical companies, and patients to ensure smooth execution and timely data collection. I am proud to say that our efforts resulted in the FDA approval of the drug, providing hope for countless patients.

My best qualities include being highly adaptable and having excellent communication skills. These qualities have allowed me to efficiently manage changes in protocols and effectively communicate with stakeholders at all levels. Additionally, my strong analytical skills have enabled me to identify potential risks and develop contingency plans to mitigate them.

I am also well-versed in various software programs such as Electronic Data Capture (EDC) systems, which has helped streamline data management processes. My proficiency in Microsoft Excel has allowed me to create complex spreadsheets for data analysis, saving time and resources for the team.

I am excited about the opportunity to bring my skills and experience to Formula Grey and contribute towards your mission of improving patient outcomes through innovative research. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to discussing how I can contribute further in an interview.

Sincerely,

Jean McNichols
