COVER LETTER

I'm submitting my illustration portfolio for your upcoming children's titles. I have a background in early childhood education and specialize in picture book illustration with a soft, expressive style.

My work is whimsical yet grounded. It focuses on emotional storytelling through posture, expression, and environment. One of my favorite projects was "Max and the Midnight Moon", a self-published book where I designed over 40 illustrations using gouache textures and digital layers. The palette was soft and inviting, and readers often said the characters "felt like old friends."

You can see spreads and early concept sketches at www.annalupineart.com. The site also features illustrations for activity books, character design commissions, and gallery prints.

I'd be honored to collaborate with your editors and writers to bring heartfelt stories to life. Thank you for considering my submission.

Warmly,

Anna Lupine
